Key ERIA Supporting Studies:

ASEAN RISING: ASEAN and AEC Beyond 2015

- Tapped 48 experts from region, ERIA, and beyond to write 36 background studies
- Integrative report has proposed vision, targets, framework and strategies for moving ASEAN and AEC forward post 2015 towards sustained high and equitable growth in ASEAN, with focus on integrated and highly contestable ASEAN, competitive and dynamic ASEAN, inclusive and resilient ASEAN, and a global ASEAN.

Framing ASCC Post 2015

- Tapped 41 experts from region, ERIA, and beyond to write 28 thought papers
- Integrative report provides proposed vision, indicative outcomes, framework, and strategies towards an inclusive and caring ASEAN Community, resilient and sustainable ASEAN, engendering a deep sense of ASEAN identity and destiny.

ASEAN and AEC Beyond 2015

Arguably, the most successful of the ERIA projects on AEC

Substantial input to framing the AEC Blueprint 2025; acknowledgement of ERIA's contribution in the Blueprint itself although not in Chairman's Statement

Anticipatory (starting in 2011 with Indonesian government); strong support of HLTF-EI officials; strong foundation from earlier AEC Scorecard, MTR and other ERIA studies

Some involvement in crafting early draft of AEC Blueprint 2025

2

Framing
ASCC
Post 2015

Relatively successful; project papers and report to serve as “references” for ASCC bodies for SAPs

Very strong support and engagement of ASEC ASCC officials and SOCA officials

Involvement in ASEC workshop that crafted the zero draft of the ASCC Blueprint 2025, but involvement not as extensively as in AEC Blueprint 2025

SOCA acknowledged ERIA’s contribution

Project is ERIA’s first major project for ASCC:

Raised ERIA’s profile on ASEAN socio-cultural issues

Robust relationship between ERIA and ASEC ASCC Department

Lessons and Insights

Strength of both reports: Leveraging ERIA's internal robust research with external experts' insights

Both reports consolidated and showcased ERIA's extensive research and expertise. Both reports highlight remarkable coherence in ERIA's research program: E.g.,

AEC Scorecard
and RCEP
study results

Production networks.
Connectivity.
PPP

SME policy
index

Energy and environment
studies

Disaster management.
Social protection

Myanmar development vision, etc.

Lessons and Insights

Continuing engagement with and support from key ASEAN officials at the technical level (in addition to Ministerial level), is important for anticipating ASEAN initiatives, framing the research questions and strategies, and embedding ERIA outputs into the ASEAN process.

Publication of research results increases ERIA's leverage in its relationship with ASEAN.

* Public knowledge and debate of ERIA outputs, widens the advocacy reach, raises the potential impact, and supports participatory approaches in ASEAN.

Lessons and Insights

ERIA-funded country
reports can contribute to national policy and reform debate and initiatives

- E.g., Philippines: ERIA-funded results used by PIDS to extensively inform policy and regulatory reform debate and major dissemination drive on AEC 2015
- ERIA may consider to give this channel more weight, focus and support; not just the regional level
- Co-funding arrangements with AMSs for their respective RIN joint researches with ERIA are advisable

THANK YOU VERY MUCH

RMS and RURB Projects

Relatively successful

RMS and RURB projects brought in NZ finance, expertise and advocacy; and Malaysia's (MPC) experience, expertise and commitment

GRP and responsive regulations a key element in AEC Blueprint 2025; likely in MPAC 2025 also as regulatory excellence

Philippine report in RMS study served as key reference for PHL's growing initiatives

Project results well received by ACCC (for MPAC) and in the EAS Regulatory Roundtable

Key Insight

Partnerships with like-minded institutions (e.g., MPC, NZIER, OECD) and ASEAN dialogue partners (e.g., NZ, Australia) on issues of substantial interest to ASEAN can bring more weight on the ERIA research outcomes and more legs in the advocacy phase.
