

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This report consists of the papers from ERIA's research project on "Economic and Welfare Impacts of Disasters in East Asia and Policy Responses" in Fiscal Year 2011-12. It aims to improve our understanding on how the past and potential impacts of disasters on productions, demands, regional development, and welfare captured by income, poverty and health outcomes, and in depth analysis on economic policy implications at national and regional level. This project also aims at creating policy recommendations for reforms at the national level and explores the prospects for regional cooperation framework.

All papers presented in this report were presented in two workshops held in Jakarta and Bangkok in 2011 and 2012.

We would like to express our appreciation and gratitude, first and foremost, to the members of our project for their scholarly contribution to the completion of this research.

We are deeply indebted to Professor Fukunari Kimura, Chief Economist of ERIA, for his intellectual guidance, encouragement, and supports for the research project.

ERIA management support is crucial for the completion of this research. We are profoundly grateful for the strong support provided by our Executive Director, Prof. Hidetoshi Nishimura, and all esteem staffs of ERIA, especially Yunita Nababan and Fadriani Trianingsih for their excellent efforts to ensure the successful delivery of the project.

Last, but not least, we would like to thank our colleagues, ERIA researchers, for their enthusiasm and participation in our workshops.
