

Acknowledgement

The editor expresses her appreciation and gratitude to the authors of the chapters of this study: Olivier Cadot, Ken Itakura, Inkyo Cheong, Erlinda Medalla, Misa Okabe, Hikari Ishido, Shandre Thangavelu, James Losari, and Nanda Nurridzki. Thank for your sharing your insights on East Asian Integration.

The report consists of analyses which are broken down into three sections: Trade in Goods, Trade in Services, and Investment. This study benefited from the valuable comments of Peter Drysdale, the Australian National University; Hank Lim, Singapore Institute of International Affairs; Shiro Armstrong, the Australian National University; Djisman Simanjuntak, Prasetya Mulya; Cristian Ugerte, Université de Lausanne; Ikumo Isono, IDE-JETRO; Yoshifumi Fukunaga and Anita Prakash, ERIA. Muhammad Rizqy and Rully Prasetya provided useful research assistance. Fukunari Kimura of ERIA and Keio University, Shujiro Urata of ERIA and Waseda University, and Ponciano Intal of ERIA provided key comments.

Insightful comments from our government counterparts and the ASEAN Secretariat are gratefully acknowledged. Parts of studies were presented at the ASEAN Senior Economic Officials' Meeting in April 2014 and the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership (RCEP) Trade Negotiation Committee (TNC) Leads Negotiation Meeting in Singapore in June 2014. Several papers of this study were presented in a number of conferences including the Asian Economic Panel Meeting, ERIA workshops, a series of capacity building symposia on RCEP in Cambodia, Lao PDR, Myanmar, and Viet Nam in 2014, and a number workshops in Southeast Asia.

Special thanks also go to Maria Priscila del Rosario, Fadriani Trianingsih, Chrestella Budyanto, and Stefan Wesiak for the final editing and design production. Elisa Ayu provided excellent assistance in the overall administration of the RCEP project.