This report was prepared by the working group on the ‘Study of the Formulation of Temburong Eco Town Master Plan project in FY2017 in Brunei Darussalam’ under the Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia Energy Project. Members of the working group, who represent each participating ministry or department of the Government of Brunei Darussalam and other organisations, discussed and agreed to use certain data and to orientation of this master plan and development images in the plan. These may differ from the data and methodologies normally used in each country. Therefore, the modelling results presented here should not be viewed as official national analyses of the participating countries.
