

Acknowledgements

This report has been authored by Giulia Ajmone Marsan, Director for Strategy and Partnership, ERIA; Amelia Litania, Programme Officer, ERIA; Lina Maulidina Sabrina, Senior Programme Officer, ERIA; and Allison Sanders, Socioeconomic Impact Manager, Eden Reforestation Projects. Rebecca Christianne Sopacua, intern to the Strategy and Partnership Programme of ERIA provided statistical support and desk research.

The authors would like to thank a number of individuals who contributed to this report: Lili Yan Ing, Lead Advisor South East Asia Region, ERIA, with her team including Gracia Hadiwidjaja, Elitua Simarmata, Anika Widiani, Adri Koleangan, Cornelis Deda, Tri Wahyuningsih, Raing, Suryani Eka, and Catherin Nur Safitri for the overall coordination, funding of the research project, and administrative support towards the study on MSME development in Eastern Indonesia.

The authors would also like to thank all individuals who took the time to share their perspectives during the realisation of this study.

- Deanna Morris, Economic Affairs Officer, and Elizabeth Larson, Innovative Finance Consultant, UNESCAP
- Sandra Hamid, Country Representative to Indonesia, and Hana Satriyo, Deputy Country Representative to Indonesia, the Asia Foundation
- Nindy Silvie and Ulfah Arafah, Australian Government Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade
- Celia Boyd, Executive Director, SHE Investment
- Helianti Hilman, Founder and Executive Chairperson, Javara Indonesia
- Julia Tijaja, Head of Markets and Competitiveness, Prospera
- Lishia Erza Budiman, Deputy Head of Indonesian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (KADIN) and Chief Executive Officer, ASYX
- All participants of the focus group discussions from the following Eastern Indonesian provinces: North Sulawesi, Nusa Tenggara Timur (NTT), Nusa Tenggara Barat (NTB), Maluku, and Papua

The authors would also like to thank the UNCTAD eTradeForWomen team for sharing relevant contacts and information: Sabrina Lelmoli, Chief eTrade Initiative Section; Sonia Nnadozie, Programme Management Officer; and Viridiana Garcia-Quiles Programme Management Officer.